1 DYING WHEN RACING CAR CRASHES AT VENICE

VENICE, Calif., March 10.—Mechanic Clarence Lamkin was probably fatally hurt today when the Napier car, driven by Orville Jonas, crashed over the ten-foot siding on the St. Patrick's Day Grand Prix course.

John Grinnell, a carpenter, was seriously hurt.

Jonas was the first driver to try the track, which is incomplete. He was warned to go slow, but took the curve on high speed.

The car leaped clean over the siding.

Lamkin is lying at St. Catherine's Hospital unconscious, and it is feared he has concussion of the brain.

Lamkin is still unconscious late today and it is believed he will die.

WASHINGTONIANS ON THEIR WAY FOR JAUNT ON COAST

Congressman William Kettner has sent to the Chambers of Commerce in Santa Ana, San Bernardino, Riverside and Redlands a list of the congressmen and their wives who left Washington March 6 for a visit to Southern California, as well as others who will be in the party. The list follows:

Senator McCumber, North Dakota; Congressman Johnson and wife, Washington; Congressman Britten and wife, Illinois; Congressman Gurnea and wife, Minnesota; Congressman Stearns and wife, Minnesota; Congressman Stout and wife, Montana; Congressman Nolan and wife, California; Congressman Gittins and wife, New York; Congressman Gordon, Ohio, and Fred Kelly and wife, Washington, D. C.

Congressman Gittins is editor of the Niagara Falls Journal. Fred Kelly is a newspaperman of note, writing among other things for the Washington Herald. "Statesmen Near and Great."

In his letter to the Chamber of Commerce, Congressman Kettner says: "All of these are representative men here in Congress and may be able to do much good in legislation which we ask in the future. I am, therefore, anxious for them to see our country so that they may understand and appreciate conditions."

The party left Chicago Sunday night and will stop at the Grand Canyon one day and will then proceed to San Bernardino.

Secretary Metzgar of the local Chamber of Commerce was today co-operating with the secretaries of the other chambers in order to prepare an itinerary for the party.

Congressman Kettner has left the matter entirely in the hands of the secretaries. He stated that they will be advised by wire from the train as to the exact time of arrival at the various cities.

First—On March 16 call for bids for paving 2.5 miles on the Anaheim-Stanton-Cypress road. The preliminary work is finished.

Deeds for sixty-foot right of way will soon be signed. Survey work on Fairview road, running south from the Greenville store, will

Zapata Reported to Have Entered Mexican Capital as Obregon Army Evacuates

Situation Is Now Considered Hopeful by State Department; Carranza Amenable

WASHINGTON, March 10.—All responsibility for the protection of foreigners in Mexico City now rests with General Villa, American State Department officers said today, when advised of reports that General Obregon, Carranza's chief general, had evacuated the capital and Zapata entered it.

Although there was no official confirmation of the reports, the department is hopeful they are true, as it is felt, it will simplify the situation.

Greater optimism is displayed by all administration officials.

Carranza's reply to the recent American note has not reached here, but Consular Agent Silliman has advised President Wilson it is favorable and promises co-operation.

VERA CRUZ, March 10.—General Carranza is ready to meet the United States half way and extend protection to all foreigners, according to the note handed Silliman today.

The news that American warships are coming created no excitement here.

SLAYER OF VOGELS TO

STATE MAY TAKE OVER WESTERN PACIFIC, PLAN NOW MADE

SACRAMENTO, March 10.—Plans for the State of California to take over the Western Pacific instead of the federal government were discussed at a conference this afternoon between the governor, lieutenant-governor, Charles Wheeler, and Rudolph Spreckels of San Francisco.

This is a somewhat different plan than outlined to the legislature yesterday when a resolution was introduced asking the United States to buy the road.

Governor Johnson wouldn't discuss the details of the conference, but said: "We discussed the possibility and hope of the state acquiring the Western Pacific. I do not care to make public at this time the plans we discussed, but I see tremendous consequences to the state and to our commercial freedom permanently assured by the acquisition of this continental railroad by the state."

Fourth—Proceed with survey of Santiago boulevard, which runs from El Modena through Villa Park to Olive. Survey ordered early so that there will be time to straighten out right-of-way matters.

Fifth—Take up survey of Placentia-Yorba road as early as possible in order to give time to get right of way and deeds to undeeded portions of the street.

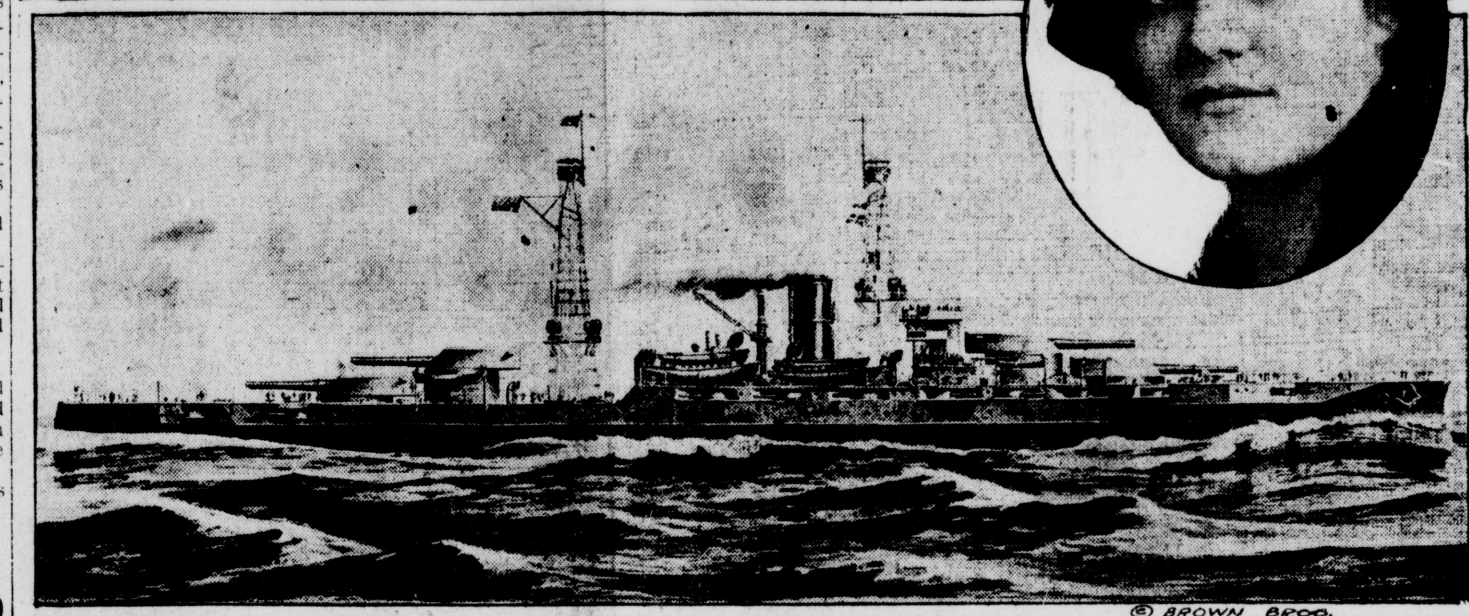

Throughout, the county will ask for deeds to sixty-foot streets.

The indications now are that no attempt will be made to start paving of the Santa Ana canyon until after the busiest part of the summer is over with. One reason Chief Engineer Finley asked for delay upon paving that road was that Riverside county expects to let contracts in the canyon, and if it is possible to do so, this county will let its contracts to run about the same time, so that the canyon road need not be closed any longer than is necessary.

It is proposed to hasten the surveys and right-of-way matters as rapidly as possible. Roads will be ready for calling for bids about one contract every two weeks until the department gets as many contracts under way as can well be watched at one time.

FEAR FOR AMERICANS IN TURKEY

THIS IS THE PENNSYLVANIA, TO BE LAUNCHED MARCH 16, AT NEWPORT NEWS, AND MISS ELIZABETH KOLB, DESCRIBED BY GOVERNOR BRUMBAUGH AS THE "SWEETEST GIRL IN PENNSYLVANIA." SHE WILL CHRISTEN THE VESSEL. THE BATTLESHIP IS 600 FEET LONG, WITH A BEAM OF 97 FEET, AND 31,000 TONNAGE.

WARNING IS TO BE SENT TO SULTAN BY NATION

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Fears for the safety of Americans and other foreigners in Turkey are growing. It is feared the Moslems will run amuck with the capture of Constantinople by the allies. Steps will be taken to impress the Turkish officials that foreigners must be protected.

LONDON, March 10.—Incensed by the torpedoing of three British merchantmen by German submarines, English newspapers joined today in a demand that the government immediately try the crews of submarines U-3 and U-20 as pirates.

"They are common pirates and murderers," declares the Times, "and should be tried by common law. Let the world know we count them as criminals, not as honorable enemies."

Fourteen British merchantmen have been sunk since the war zone decree became effective.

PETROGRAD, March 10.—A Warsaw dispatch claims a decisive victory by the Russians over the Germans attempting to seize the Warsaw-Petrograd railroad. The Germans were forced back six miles, suffering terrible losses.

A battle is raging east of Augustof, less than twelve miles from the Prussian frontier.

Nearly an entire Austrian battalion, cut off at Dneister, was forced to surrender.

ATHENS, March 10.—The new Greek cabinet with M. Gournaris as premier, was sworn in today. Former Premier Venizelos promised King Constantine that he would not attempt to overthrow the new cabinet until the people had an opportunity to vote whether or not Greece should enter the war.

LONDON, March 10.—Six British warships headed by the superdreadnought Queen Elizabeth, concentrated their fire today on Fort Namach, overlooking the Dardanelles narrows, according to Athens dispatches.

The Namach guns thus far have prevented the mine sweepers from advancing.

It is declared the superdreadnought Warspite has joined the British fleet, making nearly thirty French and British vessels in action.

It is denied that the Queen Elizabeth is seriously damaged.

The Russian fleet is approaching the Bosphorus, Petrograd states, and already has sunk several Turkish vessels.

LONDON, March 10.—The British torpedo boat destroyer Ariel has rammed and sunk the German submarine U-20, the admiralty today announces. The submarine's crew surrendered.

The U-20 is one of the largest of the German submarines. It had three torpedo tubes and a displacement of 840 tons. Its submerged speed was twelve knots, and surface seventeen. It was built in 1913.

LONDON, March 10.—Speaking in the House of Commons, Thomas J. McNamara, parliamentary secretary for the British admiralty, today ridiculed Von Bernstorff's explanation that the recent submarine attack on the British hospital ship Asturias was an error.

He said the night was clear and it was impossible for the Germans to mistake the character of the ship.

It is announced today that Germany has consented to exchange all invalid civilian prisoners in deference to the wishes of the Pope.

LONDON, March 10.—The admiralty announced this afternoon that the U-20 is the seventh German submarine to be sunk by British ships since the war began.

German Cruiser Brings 326 Prisoners to U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The German armored cruiser Eitel Frederick arrived at Newport News, Va., today with 326 Russian and French prisoners of war.

Consul Norfolk wired the German embassy that the converted cruiser's mission was to land the crews of enemy's vessels destroyed at sea.

The Newport News Shipbuilding Company this afternoon asked Secretary of the Navy Daniels if making repairs to the Eitel Frederick would constitute a breach of neutrality. The neutrality board of the Navy Department will decide the question. Secretary Daniels today conferred with President Wilson regarding the situation.

Ordinary rules of war compel vessels to sail within twenty-four hours, but the fact that the Frederick carries prisoners of war presents a different problem.

Department heads believe the Eitel is one of Von Spee's ships, which escaped when the fleet was sunk off the Falklands.

The Eitel Frederick will not intern, according to Captain Thierichens, but will repair and return to sea.

"We haven't been captured thus far, though we were in all parts of the South Atlantic. We will take more chances."

He confirmed the report that the American vessel William P. Frye, was one of the craft the Eitel sank, and gave the fact that she was carrying contraband as a reason. Captain Kiehn, his wife and twenty-seven members of the crew were saved.

Japanese Ask Police Protection Against Boycotting by Chinese

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—The Japanese Association of America today demanded police protection from the Chinese. It is announced the Chinese are boycotting Japanese goods and threatening Japanese with violence. The trouble grows out of the international complications in the Orient. Chief of Police White was informed the Chinese organizations had threatened with violence members who refused to join the boycott.

For Santa Ana and Vicinity—Probably showers tonight and Thursday; light southwest winds.

PUPILS AT LONG BEACH HIGH SEGREGATED, PLAN

LONG BEACH, March 10.—Segregation of the sexes in the Long Beach High School may result from a recommendation to that effect made by Superintendent Stephens, who recently returned from a two weeks' tour of inspection of schools in the northern portion of the state, where the plan is being adopted.

In explaining the plan, the superintendent stated the idea was not adopted on moral grounds, but for the educational values to the pupils, whereby subjects studied might be presented to each sex in a manner especially interesting to each.

FAINTS AS GIVEN 12-YEAR TERM

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—Robert E. Lomax, wealthy jeweler, was today sentenced to twelve years in San Quentin for the murder of A. B. Shaw, a former employee. Lomax's wife and five children witnessed the sentence. The prisoner utterly collapsed when sentence was pronounced by Judge Gavin Craig, and was carried from the court room.

THAW CASE TO GO TO JURY EARLY ON SATURDAY NOW BELIEF

NEW YORK, March 10.—The state expected to rest late this afternoon in the trial of Harry Thaw for conspiracy. If Justice Page rules out all the testimony bearing on Thaw's sanity, the case is expected to go to the jury on Saturday.

The defense plans to force the sanity issue and probably tomorrow an alienist will be called and the court will then rule.

Prosecutor Kennedy declared today that such testimony was not pertinent and that he would not cross-examine the alienist if he testified.

WOLFE ANSWERS ATTACKS IN SPEECH IN SENATE

SACRAMENTO, March 10.—Senator E. I. Wolfe in the Senate today answered the attacks against him. He recited the history of the Grant recall petition and the circumstances surrounding his candidacy to succeed the author of the "Red Light" law. He attacked Franklin Hichborn, the correspondent whose writings have been particularly offensive to the senator.

TO REDUCE LICENSE FOR JITNEY $200 TO $20

Fullerton Tribune: The city trustees held a short session Monday afternoon, all being present. Reports from the water collector and street superintendent were received and filed. The committee was given another week in which to insure the fire truck.

City Attorney Marks was instructed to draw up a new license ordinance for jitney buses. The present license is $200 a year for the first auto and $1 per annum for each additional jitney. The new license will be $5 a quarter for the first bus and $2.50 a quarter for each additional bus operated.

The new rate will no doubt mean strong competition in the jitney bus business in Fullerton.

CIRCUS WILL BE HERE ON FRIDAY, APRIL 16

This morning there came to town William E. Haines, contracting agent for the Sells-Floto Circus and Buffalo Bill's Original Wild West to announce that the two big shows would be in this city for an afternoon and night engagement Friday, April 16. And while he made contracts and talked of lots, Mr. Haines also talked about the size and qualities of the show for this year.

KINGS MUST STAND TOGETHER, SAYS KING

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(By mail to New York)—"We kings must stand together," said King Edward. Murder had just been done in the palace in Serbia. King Alexander and Queen Draga had been slain by bullets and sabres in their bed room and King Edward was mad about it.

He pointed out that there was a sort of trade unionism among kings. "Kings" was a business, or trade, and folks in the "profession" must stand by each other.

And, only the other day, while Germans and Englishmen were killing each other, King George "stood by" the Kaiser, if London's rialto rumors are true.

The story of London's Broadway goes like this:

When Sir James Barrie wrote the one act war skit "Der Tag," which has the Kaiser for one of its characters, he planned to have the German ruler impersonated to the life. But, to the astonishment of theater goers, the actor who played the Kaiser wore no mustache and evidently dressed as far away from the Kaiser as he possibly could. Most of the critics wrote against the piece and most of them criticized the "Kaiser's" make-up.

And then, so theater row says, the truth came out. The censor, who is a member of the king's household, wouldn't allow the Kaiser to be caricatured on the stage. Theater folks don't say why the censor took this stand. But they understood.

War is war, but royalty is royalty and majesty is majesty, and the whole king business is cheapened when one ruler allows this subjects to make fun of another ruler. And there you are. And then there's the additional fact that both King George and the Kaiser used to sit on Queen Victoria's knee and call her "grandmother."

The English newspapers, it is true, caricature the Kaiser mercilessly, but no member of the king's household is a censor of what shall appear in the newspaper.

FREAK STORM VISITS HILLS IN WEE HOURS

Thunder and lightning accompanied a freak storm that visited the foothills at about 3 o'clock this morning. From two to three inches of snow fell on Santiago Pak, commonly known as Saddleback.

Considerable streams of water were flowing down several of the creeks southeast of Santa Ana, between Irvine and El Toro, which makes it evident that there must have been something in the nature of a cloudburst in some of the hill sections while the storm was on.

Forest Ranger Bert Stephenson, stationed at El Toro, reported this morning that a good-sized stream of water ran down Aliso creek. This creek never starts running unless there is from three-quarters to an inch of rain in the hills north of El Toro. Water was also running in Toro creek, south of Irvine.

That the storm was of a decidedly freakish nature is evidenced by the fact that in Santa Ana but a few drops of water came down. At Tustin and at the Irvine ranch house the rainfall was two-hundredths of an inch, while at the Irvine warehouse the rainfall was four-hundredths.

The thunder failed to awaken a large number of people and these expressed surprise when they were told of the occurrence by their more wakeful neighbors.

HOW BILLY SUNDAY AND A 'HIGH-BROW' CLASHED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—People here are chuckling about the little differences between Billy Sunday and Walter C. Edgar, editor of the highbrow Minneapolis publication, The Bellman. The story is told that while Edgar was in Sunday's Philadelphia audience, Billy said, "There is a man amongst us tonight, one of God's chosen, who has elected to relieve the famine in bleeding Belgium. His name is Edgar, Minneapolis is his home. I want to shake that man by the hand."

The peculiar part of the thing was that just a week before Edgar published the following:

"A very curious study in modern civilization as found in America is Mr. B. Sunday, late baseball player, and revivalist of a sort. A vulgar, bustling, incoherent, ranting, ranting religious quack, whose antics outrage religious decency and who makes a fine living at his trade."

MISS LA TOUR
The "Original Bubble Girl" of the Team of La Tour and La Tour, Big Orpheum Feature at Clune's Theater.

AMUSEMENTS

The program at Clune's Theater tomorrow and for the next three days is especially strong. The La Tours in "The Original Bubble Girl" are especially attractive. They give the most billing of "comedy capers" to one of the most unique entertainments vaudeville has ever had. Burlesque, magic feats, comical juggling antics and clever surprises follow in rapid-fire succession, all performed in such a laughable manner that one almost forgets the skill of the artists in the enjoyment of the note of burlesque creates. A very pretty part of the act is the performance of Miss La Tour, a beautiful blonde girl, who seems to have the world beaten at blowing smoke bubbles. An act such as this has never been seen here before and that may be said of all places they have appeared, for it is the only one of its kind in America.

Art Adair, the Boob Musician, has a great musical act, full of original comedy, introducing several instruments, all played in an artistic manner.

Bedward & Gardiner, society fox trotters, in their entertaining dances; Punch Jones, another added attraction, is also on the bill.

The picture program includes Charlie Chaplin in "His New Job," an Esanay comedy. Two other feature pictures make one of the best shows of the season.

LUCAS TODAY ENTERS THE RACE FOR CLERK

Today A. G. Lucas took out nomination papers for city clerk, making the ninth.

Again Explained

There seem to be a good many people who are still in the dark as to the way in which city trustees are to be chosen. There will be one trustee elected from each ward, but the entire city will vote upon each trustee. Consider, for instance, trustee of Ward 1 as a separate office, just as clerk or marshal.

Act 2348, Section 764 of the General Laws of the State of California provides, in part, that "When ever such city shall be divided into wards, the boards of trustees shall designate by ordinance the number of trustees to be elected from each ward, apportioning the same in proportion to the population of such ward; and thereafter the trustees so designated shall be elected by the qualified electors residing in such ward, or by the general vote of the whole city, as may be designated in such ordinance."

Following is the amendment to Section 1 of Ordinance No. 119. This was passed and adopted March 16, 1914, and under it the coming election is to be held:

"That the city of Santa Ana is hereby divided into five wards. Each ward shall be entitled to one member of the Board of Trustees, residing in said ward and each member of the Board of Trustees representing each of said city, shall be elected by the general vote of the whole city, by the qualified electors of said city."

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give 'California Syrup of Figs'

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels pass out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

BLUE GUMS GO

Ranchers Take Out Tree, Once

GARDEN GROVE, March 10.—A large number of blue gum trees are being removed in this section of the country to make room for other trees or profitable crops.

Mr. Sawyer is doing considerable improvement work on his new five-acre basin three-fourths of a mile east of town, in the way of trimming up trees which have long needed it. He has whitewashed the trunks of all the trees. The place is set to walnuts, interset with fruit trees, mostly pear and apple.

A new six-room modern bungalow is being built by Christenson Bros. on their five-acre ranch two miles north-east of town. The house will have every modern convenience. Cement walks will be laid at once and it will soon be ready for occupancy.

Eldon, Mo. — "I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. PLANT ALMONDS

On this continent Almonds are only grown in California and the U. S. market alone demands four times the present supply. Plant almonds at Templeton or Paso Robles and make money—it's a cinch.

PLANT PEARS

for profit! California Bartlett Pears are in a class by themselves and monopolize the market. Did you know that Templeton-Paso Robles district produces the fancy grade of Bartlett, Winter Nellis and Du Comice.

PLANT CHERRIES

They are the most attractive and the best fruit of the summer season, and are very profitable. Soil and climate near Templeton produce a fine quality. Trees forty years old in family orchards are the indisputable evidence.

PLANT PRUNES

The Prune industry of California ranks first in the world, over one-half of the world's product being grown in California, and the dried product now finds a ready market in all countries. Prunes grown near Templeton are rich in sugar, fine of flavor, good size, and lose less weight in drying because grown without irrigation.

PHILADELPHIA WANTS A 'HOTEL DE GINK'

PHILADELPHIA—High officials of the International Brotherhood Welfare Association, whose dislike for work has made them leaders among the "sons of rest," are trying to persuade Mayor Blankenburg and the City Property Bureau to permit them to establish a "Rop house" in this city along the lines of the "Hotel de Gink" in New York. Twenty-five hoboes are here now and many more are expected to arrive via the brake beams.

The "hoboes" are planning to acquire some abandoned school house and install modern apparatus similar to that used in the de Gink emporium. It will be called "Wayfarer's Rest"—that is, if the city officials agree to their proposition.

Burt Stewart, former vice president of the association, and who recently visited the "Hotel de Gink" in the big city, has thought out plans of the latest house of rest to such fine points he can almost picture himself comfortably quartered in "Wayfarer's Rest." According to Stewart, the "Wayfarer's" will be the softest thing yet for tramps and panhandlers. The association's policy is to "try to collect the living which the world owes every inhabitant."

MOUNTAIN QUAIL IS LARGEST,
MOST BEAUTIFUL OF THEM ALL

By HAROLD C. BRYANT
Game Expert, California Fish and Game Commission.

The mountain quail, sometimes known as the plumed quail or mountain partridge, is the largest and most beautiful of all the members of the quail family found in North America. The bird is found throughout the mountainous districts of California from the Oregon line to the Mexican line. Along the northwest coast region this quail is of a darker color and is, therefore, considered a different variety. This coast form is usually called the mountain quail by scientists, whereas the one found in the Sierras is called the plume quail. As a rule the mountain quail of the Sierras dwells above 5000 feet altitude, but during the winter season it is found lower down and sometimes even associated with valley quail. The coast form dwells at much lower altitudes. On the eastern bases of the southern ranges the mountain quail occurs about springs well out on to the desert.

From other quail found in California the mountain quail may be distinguished by its large size, rich chestnut throat and flanks, sides broadly banded with white, and by the long crest plume made up of two jet black feathers. Whereas the crest of the valley quail hangs over the bill, that of the mountain quail is rather erect or pointed backward. The two sexes of the mountain quail are so near alike that the two are hard to separate unless a close view of the crest can be had. The crest of the female is considerably shorter.

The mating season begins the latter part of March or the first of April. By March nests are to be found. They are constructed of leaves, pine needles or grass placed in a small depression and usually under the protection of an overhanging rock, log, bush or tuft of grass. From six to fifteen eggs of a pale reddish buff color are laid. The earliest date at which complete sets of eggs have been found is April 7, and the latest August 15. The usual statement that an egg is laid each day is probably not literally true, for, at least, in one case, additional eggs were found in the nest every other day.

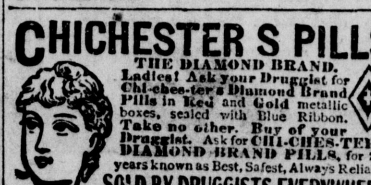

During July and August young mountain quail are very much in evidence. They are cared for by one or both of the parents and some people believe that the male bird sometimes cares for a brood while the female is incubating a second set of eggs. The young, unlike adults, often take flight and seek cover in trees or brush. When well hidden one may almost step on the little fellows before they will fly.

Mountain quail are noted for their altitudinal migrations. Even before lates who have talked with him have turned on gas, drank poison, shot their hearts out, or plunged head-long from the twenty-second story of the Masonic hall to the court below.

Most of them "got saved." Addie said, using "Army" verbiage, "Others made up with the wife, more went to work, the majority quit booze and the rest quit hammering the pipe," he added.

"Anti-suicide" is the work Addie declares he is doing. Philosophizing on suicides, he calls self-destruction a "preventable disease." Drink, dope, brooding over past misdeeds, domestic trouble—these are the chief causes of suicide, the Salvationist theorizes. "All of these may be prevented," he asserts.

Humor is at its best when it is the surface covering a pathetic under-tone, the anti-suicide expert stated. Recently a would-be "bucket-kicker" told him the woeful story of wife-estrangement.

"Wench get Mary back fr' mih, Cap'n, the Sad one plained. 'Twas all my fault. Sheez the dearest little woman in the wurld. I must h-av-er or I-must die."

Profoundly touched, Addie wired the wronged wife, telling her of hubby's wild threat, of how he would make good and wanted reconciliation. "He threatens to kill himself," he closed the telegram.

Sent collect, the Colonel soon received the reply: "Get an undertaker." "And I like to have lost this case," he said. "I saved it by giving him a meal ticket as a sort of a temporary proxy for Mary."

BIG EATERS GET
KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

SOCIETY MAKES ITSELF USEFUL

A dispatch from Hot Springs, Va., the famous winter resort, notes that society women are promoting the "Made in America" movement. "Independence blue," and various fabrics of cotton or other American material are being worn by social leaders. It is an example that should be widely followed.

The influence which women of social prominence might exert in this direction is enormous. It would be such an easy thing for the social leaders in a dozen great cities, to pass around the word that it is strictly "the thing" to wear American grown and manufactured fabrics this season.

The purchases made by such women easily become a matter of public note. Clerks talk about it to all their customers. The idea spreads from circle to circle and clique to clique. It is the easiest thing in the world for those in the seats of social power to start a popular fad. Wearing American made goods could be made so popular in this country within six months that women would be almost ashamed to have it known that they bought imported stuffs.

People are governed in their daily purchases by sentiment. There has been a vague feeling for many years that foreign made goods were better. In some cases they may be cheaper, but perhaps the principal motive for the preference has been the feeling that they are more artistic or stylish. Yet America has the brightest, most hustling business men in the world. It seems absurd to suppose that they let trade drift out of their hands by making an inferior article.

The use of American products, in so far as reasonably possible, would be a move of real patriotism. It would help the home cotton grower and manufacturer and makers of all American textile fabrics, whose business has been upset by the war and other causes. It would put bread into the mouths of hungry families all over the country, and help bring back a high range of prosperity.

THE WORLD ASHAMED

The world may not be getting much better or much wiser, but it is at least getting less egotistic and more apologetic. We still feed the poor by charity and we still have no remedy for crime except locking up the criminals together in places where they may teach each other more crime. But we have meeting in Fresno a state conference of charities and corrections, all of whose members are frankly ashamed of both charity and correction, and frankly looking forward to the time when charities and corrections shall be abolished from the world. On a wider scale we have the world at war, but in that world every nation is apologizing for the war and insisting that the other fellow began it and made it necessary. No one is proud any more of the once Christian virtue of charity nor of the once manly occupation of war. There was a time when piracy and highway robbery were the only occupations sufficiently exalted for a gentleman or a hero to engage in. Finally people got ashamed of making their livings by stealing, and in due time their sons and grandsons quit stealing and adopted gentler methods of living by other people's work. There was a time later when fighting was the only occupation worthy of a gentleman, and it is still true that the warrior caste constitutes the aristocracy of most countries which have such a caste. War has ceased to be the chivalry of knights and has become quite largely very hard, very dirty and very unspectacular labor. It is a thing deplored as an unfortunate necessity, but nowhere proclaimed as an honor. The whole world is now ashamed of most things it is doing. It has not acquired intelligence or character enough to quit doing them, but it is something for it to have acquired grace enough to be ashamed of doing them.—Fresno Republican.

DEDICATION BY SWEDES

Sweden's building at the San Francisco exposition has just been dedicated. Sweden has done the handsome thing by the exposition, expending $200,000 on its national structure and the exhibits placed therein. Besides this, it has sent an art exhibit valued at $150,000. But Sweden's best gift to this country is thousands of its sturdy, virile, industrious and acceptable people, who become useful citizens of this republic. This country never has had occasion to fear or regret the coming of Scandinavian people to its shores. They are wholesome and thor-

"HOPE THOU IN GOD"

From a Sermon by the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis.

The thought of an unwearied God is also the true antidote to despondency. The ground of optimism is in God. For the godless man is always the hopeless man. Between no God anywhere and the one God who is everywhere, there is no middle ground. Either we are children, buffeted about by fate and circumstances, with events tossing souls about in an eternal game of battledore and shuttlecock, or else the world is our Father's house, and God standeth within the shadows keeping watch above his own.

Are you weak, oh, patriot? Remember God is strong. Do your days of service seem short, until your life is scarcely longer than the flower that blooms today and is gone tomorrow? God is eternal, and He will take care of your work. Are you sick with hope long deferred? Hope thou in God; He shall yet send succor. Have troubles driven happiness from thee, as the hawk drives the young lark or nightingale from its nest? Return unto thy rest, troubled heart, for the Lord will deal bountifully with thee. Are you anxious for your children? God will bring the child back from the far country. For the child hath wandered far, the golden thread spun in a mother's heart is an unbroken thread that will draw him home! For things that distress you today, you shall thank God tomorrow. Nothing shall break the golden chain that binds you to God's throne. Are you hopeless and despondent because of your fainting strength? Remember that the antidote for despondency is an unwearied God, who is doing the best he can for you, and whose ceaseless care neither slumbers nor sleeps.

"Turning to Taft"

CAN IT BE POSSIBLE?

(FROM THE SAN DIEGO UNION)

The Kansas City Journal notes that "leading newspapers of various political alignments are now seriously discussing the case of William H. Taft," and add that "in view of the political drift of the times the former President is today an attractive figure, looming large both corporately and mentally upon the national horizon." The paper concludes its article by remarking:

"As the country looks back upon it, the administration of President Taft stands out as a time of prosperity and progress. And, in the light of the subsequent years of industrial bewilderment and depression, uncertainty and danger, Mr. Taft's judicial mind, superior judgment and solid statesmanship are looked upon by many thousands with high admiration and strong conviction that the country blundered in not giving him a second term."

But the blunder that was made in 1912, though a very costly one, is not irreparable. Mr. Taft is still a comparatively young man—there will be another presidential election in less than two years.

It is worthy of note, too, that other papers besides the Kansas City one here quoted are giving attention to former President Taft. The independent Democratic New York Times has this to say:

"Mr. Taft's conduct since he left the White House has made him hosts of friends and has even affected the fashionably assimilated. They take to American citizenship and to patriotic love of America like ducks to water. They are among the most welcome of all immigrants coming to this country.—Long Beach Press."

PROPOSED FORESTRY LAW

The State Board of Forestry is charged with the duty of supervising all matters of forest management and forest policy coming under the direction of the state.

In the performance of this duty there is a consensus of opinion expressed by the board through the State Forester Mr. G. M. Homans, concerning the vital provisions of an adequate forest protective policy for California.

Under existing conditions in the state a protective measure must provide unquestionably for the following:

1. The protection of both publicly and privately owned timber lands and range lands against fire. This necessitates:
- First. Provisions for effective cooperation between state, federal, municipal, county and private agencies.
- Second. An adequate number of fire patrols during the fire danger season acting under competent authority.
- Third. A definitely specified method of controlling and preventing fires and of compensating fire fighters.
- Fourth. Provision requiring that slash resulting from logging and wood cutting shall be disposed of.
- Fifth. Provision requiring the railroads to keep their rights of way clear of inflammable debris through which fire might be carried to adjoining property.
- Sixth. Provision requiring all steam engines operating in or near wooded or range land to be equipped with efficient spark arresters.
2. There must be a strong state forestry organization as a regular and important part of the state government, which shall be charged with the duty of looking after the interests of the people of the state in all matters relating to forestry.

There is a bill before the legislature which makes all these provisions. Its aim is to protect every industry and to further the principles of conservation in California. The stockman, rancher, fruitgrower, lumberman, water-user and many others should be equally concerned in seeking the passage of this bill. The measure is Senate Bill No. 460, and its companion in the Assembly, No. 605.

The persistent aspirations of the human race to society what the compass is to the ship. It sees not the shore, but it guides to the shore.—Lamartine.

tion of the party that was hostile to him while there—though that hostility was not directed so much at him as those around him. His good temper, and the wisdom of his public utterances, and the service he has performed in directing public opinion, have gone a long way toward clarifying the popular impression of an honest president who suffered for sins that were not his. It is probable that the gossip now springing up in so many different parts of the country will increase rather than diminish."

And the Baltimore Sun, a staunch Republican journal, even goes the length of saying that "this strong independent trend toward the upbuilding of a public sentiment for the renomination of Mr. Taft represents the logic of the situation to which the country has been brought by the result of the last election and its consequences." And the article concludes with the declaration that "as present William Howard Taft is in a very real sense the most inspiring figure in this republic, the logical leader of the growing movement back to sanity."

So far as known, Mr. Taft has given no indication that he aspires again to become a candidate for the presidency. But it begins to look very much as if there would be a strong pressure brought to bear on him to induce him to enter the race. And it is not doubted that if he shall receive a genuine call he will consent to be its nominee.

MINNESOTA PLANS TO RECLAIM MILLION ACRES

BEMIDJI, Minn.—One million dollars will be spent in Beltrami and adjoining counties by the state of Minnesota this spring, to reclaim 1,000,000 acres of land, which if free of water, would be among the most fertile. State land experts estimate that the value of the reclaimed land during 1915 will be $6,000,000, but that before the end of 10 years, will be $100,000,000. This estimate by the state experts is based upon statistics of other land value increase in Minnesota.

The majority of this land to be reclaimed is in the northern part, or adjoining the northern part of Beltrami county, which in itself is 156 miles long. Some of the strip to be reclaimed extends over to St. Louis county, which is larger than the combined area of Connecticut and Rhode Island. The scheme for reclamation of this land, at present a continuous swamp of several hundred miles in breadth, includes the division of the vast expanse into sections, each section to be divided by roads, at the side of which is a deep drainage ditch. These ditches at every four sections meet and the object of the flow is to get flow into Red Lake, the second largest inland lake, entirely within the United States, in the nation.

Red Lake is shallow. This will necessitate a plan for getting the flow of water from Red Lake south, and eventually through the Mississippi river. This includes widening the channel of one of the tributaries of Red river, now opening out of Red Lake, and eventually emptying into the Mississippi river. Another plan is to bring the water through a canal, directly through the northern Minnesota divide, and emptying into Lake Bemidji at its northern point. Thence a channel will be constructed through Lake Bemidji, to the Mississippi river which flows through the lake, through a distinctive channel of its own. By narrowing the channel of the river, it is believed that the Mississippi river at this point will be able to handle the flow of the water.

It is estimated that the entire work of reclamation will be completed in ten years. Cut-over timber coupled with the swamps form an additional impediment.

QUARANTINE TO BE USED AS ANTI-VICE WEAPON

DETROIT, Mich., March 10.—Quarantine as a weapon against the social vice is an innovation which may be tried out in Detroit. Police and health board officials, who have been co-operating in a plan to check the spread of disease resulting from wide open conditions in the red light sections, are about ready to launch a new campaign, it was hinted today.

W. A. HUFF

The new plan, which is experimental in nature, will be the quarantining of any resort which is reported to the police as a menace.

The quarantine method, it is said, will be employed as a substitute for the old police method, now discarded, of closing up resorts which failed to comply with the department's regulations providing for registration and medical inspection, or which failed to report inmates suffering from disease.

"Officially," Detroit has had no vice section for the past 18 months, the reports having been closed by order of Police Commissioner John Gillespie, in October 1913. It is an open secret, however, that the police have found themselves unable, under present conditions, to cope with the scores of vicious houses that are operating openly in many sections. To meet this new condition, without officially recognizing the failure of his "elimination" order, the commissioner is said to favor a trying out of the quarantine plan.

Under the proposed new method, any resort that is considered a menace, will be quarantined by the health officials, placarded and in other ways treated as though smallpox or some contagious disease existed there.

OLD FAVORITE SONGS NOW WITHIN THE REACH OF REGISTER READERS

Beautiful Volume Illustrated With Splendid Portraits of Great Artists

- How many of the dear old songs have you in your home?
- How many times have you wished for some old favorite which a passing thought has brought to your mind?
- And oh, how dear to memory are the old tunes! What would you give to have a complete collection of these old favorites, words, music and all?
- You never saw a collection of this kind, and yet you have always wanted it.
- With this thought in view, the Register has arranged to take up the distribution of a volume called "Songs That Never Grow Old." Here are all the old favorites all together, including songs of home, college, sacred, patriotic, love and operatic songs, as well as national airs of different countries. These include German, French, Italian and English songs, the dearly beloved songs of Ireland and Scotland, and many others that are familiar to everybody.

These old favorites have been compiled and selected with the utmost care by the most competent authorities, and are printed and bound all together, making seven song books in one volume. There are two styles of binding, one in art bristol covers and the other in heavy English cloth. The contents are the same, but, of course, the cloth binding is more durable, and with ordinary care should last a lifetime. It is stamped in gold on side and back; is flat-opening, and under usual conditions such a book could not be sold for less than $2.50.

A most attractive innovation in this edition are the magnificent illustrations. These consist of a rare galaxy of sixty-nine wonderful portraits of the world's greatest vocal artists, many in favorite costumes. The list includes Caruso, Tetrazzini, Slezak, Melba, Farrar, Bonci, Matzenauer, Goritz, Scotti, Fremstad and almost fifty others. None of these portraits have ever before been shown in a work of this character, and they are all reproduced from copyrighted photographs which have been approved by the artists themselves. Every reader will want to possess this rare and unique collection, but can get it only through the Register.

In another column of this issue will be found a coupon in which is explained the plan of distributing this beautiful book of old favorites songs. Readers are urged to lose no time in familiarizing themselves with the plan. Read the display announcement in this issue, and clip the coupon today.

HURT IN LION HUNT: 3 SUE FOR $30,000

NEW YORK, March 10.—Three damage suits, aggregating $30,500, have been brought against the Eighty-sixth Street Amusement Company as a result of the escape of lions from the defendant's theater at Eighty-sixth street and Third avenue last December.

Rose Friedman demands $10,500 for her injuries. She was frightened and had to undergo an operation. Patrolman Edward Keaveny and Police Sergeant Daniel Glenn each demand $10,000. They were injured in the encounter.

EFFORT TO HOLD UP $15,000 CAR FAILURE

NEW YORK, March 10.—The pay wagon of the Third Avenue Street Railway Company, carrying $15,000, narrowly escaped falling into the hands of three bandits.

It was to be flagged, according to the robbers' plans, at One Hundred and Thirty-third street and Broadway by three men, presumably surveyors.

There was evidently some hitch in the plans, for John C. Clark was the only one of the three in the neighborhood. He was captured.

PURIFYING THE AIR
A pitcher of cold water placed on the table of an occupied room will absorb all the gases with which the room is filled from the respiration of those eating or sleeping in it. In a few hours this pitcher of pure water will make the air of the room pure, while the water itself will become totally unfit for use.

Santa Ana, Cal., March 10, 1915. To the Voters of the City of Santa Ana:

I desire to state to the voters of this city that for many years I resided in the city of Terre Haute, Indiana, and during that time for a period of six years, from 1896 to 1902, Mr. S. A. Clark, now a candidate for the position of City Marshal was a policeman in the city of Terre Haute and made an excellent and competent officer, fully to be relied upon in all emergencies.

Socialism and the War

[Contributed by Vin Robinson]

As the Socialist party everywhere is well known to be strongly opposed to the war principle, members of the party in this country are frequently asked the question, Why is it that European Socialists are today fighting each other in the bloodiest war of modern times? As well might the question be asked, Why are the Christians of Europe fighting each other?

The present European conflict came suddenly. The Socialists did not realize the tremendous strength of the military spirit that still existed in Europe. They had prevented threatened wars, and they felt confident that the world had advanced beyond the possibility of another great war.

It had been declared before the keener Socialists had realized that there was danger of international conflict. After war had been declared and five hundred thousand troops had been mobilized, Jean Jurez, Socialist prime minister of France, made his stirring anti-war protest, which resulted in his assassination two days later. There were labor riots in Paris in opposition to the government policy, but these were promptly put down. The three leading Socialist dailies of France, including L'Humanite, were suppressed indefinitely. At the present time, the regular Socialist party of France is opposing the war. Valiant and Semard, two leading government officials, have opposed the continuation of the war budget, but have been met with shouts of derision from a war-crazed mob. The Socialists of France who oppose the action of the government, are taking their lives in their hands. The whole of France is stirred with the idea that Germany is the aggressor, and that France is fighting to defend her national boundaries.

The question, Should a man refuse to fight to defend his property and his home in time of foreign invasion? is the one that European Socialists have been forced to face.

It is a mistaken idea that the Socialist party is in control of the government of the German nation. There are but 112 deputies out of the 397 in the Reichstag who are avowed Socialists. The Reichstag is but one part of the German Council, and corresponds to our House of Representatives. The Bundesrat, which corresponds to our Senate, is distinctly conservative and contains few Socialist members. This upper house has the power to veto the action of the Reichstag on war issues. The Socialists in the Reichstag have realized the impossibility of passing peace legislation, or of fighting to any great extent the war budget. These men are as good Socialists as they ever were, but it takes men with nerves of steel to stand in the midst of hostile majorities and be called traitors and endure the insults of patriotic mobs. The Germans believe, like the French, that it is a war for protection that they are engaged in. The "Vorwaerts" and other leading Socialist newspapers, having protested against the government policy, are published at the present time under the strictest military censorship. It is true that thousands of German Socialists are fighting in the trenches; some are inspired by feelings of patriotism and others have been forced into the war. It is said that many of the Socialist soldiers in both the French and German armies to avoid killing each other have agreed to shoot high and so miss their targets.

In England the Independent Labor party is agitating against the war. Such Socialists as James Larkin, Tom Mann and Bernard Shaw have openly defied the English authorities by telling the workmen to refuse to fight. Socialist halls in England are decked with red banners which read, "We serve neither King nor Kaiser!" In Brisbane, Australia, the Socialist hall was riddled with bullets because of Socialist anti-war parades.

The seventeen Socialist members of the Russian Duma voted to a unit against the war.

The Socialist agitation in Italy has prevented that nation from entering the war.

The present European situation does not show the failure of Social Democracy, but it does show to be false the argument which Socialists have always opposed, that large armaments are the best means of maintaining peace.

The Socialist cause is not dead in Europe, and when the war is over and the insane mobs and war-drunken patriots have come to realize its futility, in the calmness of their reflections the truths which the Socialists have disseminated will recur to them with added force.

The Socialist propaganda of justice, peace and brotherhood will modify the deliberations of peace congresses and affect the constitutions of reconstructed states.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

Splendid Reports Given by Department Superintendents; Election of Officers

The W. C. T. U. met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. J. Rogers, 1010 Ross street, and held the annual business meeting and election of officers. Mrs. Frank Heff led the devotion meeting and Mrs. F. J. Rogers, superintendent of parliamentary usage, conducted the election. The president, Mrs. Lea Warren, who had served for the past five years, declined to serve, and Mrs. Viola Norman, who has held the office of president and also served as county president for five years, was unanimously elected president. Mrs. Norman was absent from the city at the time of her election. Mrs. W. E. Ward was elected first vice-president; Miss Sarah Finley, second vice-president; Mrs. Hattie B. McPhee, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lizzie Stafford, recording secretary; Mrs. E. H. Prince, treasurer. Each of the new officers was presented with a bunch of yellow violets.

Mrs. McPhee, corresponding secretary, was not able to be present and the year's report was read by the recording secretary, Mrs. Lizzie Stafford. The treasurer, Mrs. E. H. Prince, gave the treasurer's report. There are twenty-eight different departments of work and the superintendent of each gave splendid reports of their department. The year was principally given up to the work of the dry campaign for 1914. The departments of literature, scientific temperance instruction, Sunday school temperance and L. T. L. had especially good reports, as those departments were more directly along the line of the dry campaign.

When every department reports the work done during the year, one can hardly comprehend the magnitude of the work carried on by the W. C. T. U. and the different people who are reached through the different departments.

Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Warren attended the state board meeting in Los Angeles on Saturday and gave reports of business done at that meeting and of the headquarters at the exposition at San Diego. The rooms are handsomely furnished and are something of which the W. C. T. U. can well be proud, as many eastern people will visit there during this year. A tea room is a feature at the headquarters, and lunches are served cafeteria style. This is a splendid place to rest while seeing the exposition.

The union voted to contribute a sum of money each month to help the Mexican mission and also to purchase a silver medal for a contest to be held at Spurgeon school.

The next meeting will be the last on this year's calendar and will be a mothers' meeting held at the home of Mrs. N. H. Leonard, corner Broadway and Santa Clara avenue.

GALA EVENT

Shiloh Circle Celebrates Birthday of C. C. Shaw With Merry Dinner

Yesterday was a gala day for the Shiloh Circle No. 21, Ladies of the G. A. R., for once again they had the pleasure and privilege of celebrating the birthday of one of its honored members, Comrade C. C. Shaw having passed his eightieth milestone on this date.

The Circle served a sumptuous dinner in the G. A. R. hall, where tables were decorated with beautiful freshias and ferns. The honored guest was seated at the head of the birthday table, at his left, his son, ex-postmaster L. L. Shaw, others being Comrade J. N. Martin and his charming wife, who, as president of Shiloh Circle, is ever watchful for the pleasure and happiness of the "boys who wore the blue." Comrade and Mrs. E. T. Langley, Rev. and Mrs. F. S. Haugbom, Captain and Mrs. Maryatt, and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Shaw were also gathered around this special table.

Mrs. Dora Martin, the Circle president, acted as toastmistress and called upon the honored guest for an impromptu talk.

Comrade Shaw was born March 9, 1835, in Standish, Maine, where he lived until he was 15 years of age before moving with his parents to Gordon, Maine. He enlisted in the Fifth Maine Regiment in '61 and for three years and two months he valiantly withstood all perils and sufferings of the war, in defense of the union and to preserve, untarnished, the glorious old Stars and Stripes. He was mustered out of the army in July, '64, and moved to Iowa October of the same year, coming to Santa Ana in the fall of 1889, where he has since lived as an honored citizen.

Those present to help Mr. Shaw celebrate this gladness day were Mesdames Nellie Smith, Kate Wendelken, Lura V. Bell, Hannah Dwyer, Sarah Brooks, Ellen Lesheka, Louisa Parker, J. D. Blackburn, Cathleen Mirkel, Della McGanety, Allace Gage, J. L. Adams of Nevada, La. Louise Burtz and Leslie; Comrades Hefner, Hungerford, Hanabaugh, Newman, Baker, Dally, S. N. Farrell and Mr. Plandreau of South Dakota.

Delightful Club Meeting
The members of the Tustin Twelve enjoyed a social afternoon yesterday with Mrs. E. J. Cranston of Tustin, whose home was gallantly decorated in honor of Ireland's Patron Saint.

During the pleasant hours spent with fascinating needlework, Mrs. Charles Johnson sang a lovely solo and Mrs. Albert Drake, a new member, who is a talented musician, gave a variety of beautiful instrumental selections.

A delicious collation of shaddock sandwiches, chicken patties, potato pyramids garnished with parsley, plum pudding, coffee and green and white mints were served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. F. Currier. The dining table was centered with an artistic bouquet of lilies and smilax and places were marked by pretty little shaddock cards.

Every member was present with the exception of Mrs. Fred Moorehouse, whose absence, due to sickness, was keenly regretted.

Mrs. Albert Fuller of 1130 Lyon street will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Important Meeting
The Philathea and Baraca classes of the First Presbyterian church held an important business meeting last evening after the girls had completed their sewing session and the boys had indulged in athletics.

The topic of an old-time entertainment of unusual order, was discussed and it was decided to give this entertainment within the next month or six weeks.

Over seventy-five young people belong to these two classes, which, with the assistance of several prominent Santa Ana citizens put on the "Jennie Brice Mock Trial" two years ago and with Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Morrow again at the head of this affair, it promises to be of high merit.

It was also decided by a unanimous vote, at last night's meeting, to reserve the use of the Baraca-Philathea athletic grounds for the exclusive use of these two classes, for the present.

BOOK REVIEW SECTION

Mrs. L. P. Hickox Gives Excellent Review of 'The Wood Carver of Lympos'

The Book Review Section of the Ebell Club met last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tedford to hear Mrs. L. P. Hickox review the book, 'The Wood-carver of Lympos.'

The reviewer premised her readings by saying that the author, Marv E. Waller, although she has written a half-score of novels and some poems, does not appear to be widely known, and no biographical information was available. She then very happily told the story in her own words interspersed with selections.

Mrs. Hickox said that the book portrayed an ever-widening circle of influence, like the ripples made by a stone cast into a pool, by which a bearded cripple extended his personality out into the wide world. It showed how a bitter, unhappy man in despair at his misfortune, by the change of attitude in his own mind, gradually learns to accept his lot without repining, be helpful to himself and others and finally to gain complete happiness.

This stupendous change is brought about through four agencies, viz., friendship, work, books and love, and the work of each is traced in succession.

The scene is laid in the mountain district of Vermont and in the first chapter the driver of the stage introduces the reader to the hero, a young wood-chopper, upon whom a huge log has accidentally fallen and whose lower limbs have in consequence been paralyzed, and it is for him that the stage is bringing a cot especially constructed for him to lie upon. The reader also learns about Theodora, or "Twiddle," as she is familiarly called, a young girl who, together with the wood-chopper is brought up by an old couple who live two miles back in the mountains, "on Lympos," as the stage driver says, and this young girl, it is, who comes for the mail placed by the driver in a hollow tree, and who weaves for herself imaginative stories about each of the stage passengers who pass by, with all childhood's pleasure in "make-believe."

Hugh Armstrong, the cripple, who had ambitions to study, to better his condition, to perhaps be a minister of the gospel, lies cursing his fate and his Maker until one day about him fear to trust him a razor or other sharp instrument lest he should make way with himself, and his despair being reflected in his face drives "Twiddle," laden with flowers for him, away, and makes even the intelligent dog keep his distance.

In his diary he tells how after a year and seven months he becomes, on his birthday, touched with the faithful sacrifice of his family who denied themselves to buy the bed he lies on, he realizes his selfishness and ingratitude and resolves to be more helpful. A stranger traveling by the stage is attracted to "Twiddle" and with her guidance visits Hugh and by his presence and friendly interest brings encouragement. He does more, since he writes to him and not only suggests that the cripple occupy himself with wood-carving, but takes the trouble to send him the tools. Hugh has already been taught to knit and has benefited by the work, and wood-carving not only takes his mind off his troubles and gives him joy in the creation of beautiful objects, but enables him to earn money and contribute to the support of the family who have been so kind to him.

Through this stranger, Phillip Vanover, he hears, through letters, of many foreign lands for the stranger is a wide traveler, and receives from him books and new designs for his work.

Through Phillip, the cripple becomes acquainted with a mining engineer, also a traveler and versed in geology and in the history of the rocks a new interest is developed. In the same way he learns to know Madeline Cope, a cultured, kindly lady of sympathetic disposition, and her story together with that of one or two others intertwines with that of the hero. These people find in Hugh a safe confidant to whom they can go with their troubles and having helped him, they in turn find that he is a help to them.

And so Hugh, after experiencing the good influence of friendship, work and books, has the heart for loving and does indeed love the lady, Madeline Cope. The latter, however, though a great friend of Hugh's, does not love him nor any of several lovers, except only Phillip Vanover.

It takes considerable time and some chapters to get all the love affairs in the book straightened out and eventually Hugh finds that the one he really loves is "Twiddle," who has faithfully loved him all these years and he makes her his wife.

The program committee announces that at the April meeting will occur a book symposium at which six persons will devote ten minutes each to telling what is the most interesting book they ever read, an outline of the book and why they were interested in it.

there and $400 paid for labor. It declares that $200 will cover the material burned.

The most sensational statement made in the answer is that a receipt from E. M. Matheuse, purporting to be a payment on the house, is either forged or has been raised from a receipt for $75.00 to one for $575.10, Hindman & Yakey of Los Angeles are attorneys for the defendant.

Over a Commission B. F. Townsend of Santa Ana is defendant in an action brought by Beatrice E. and J. Fred Hards for $2375 real estate commission. The action was started in Los Angeles by Attorneys Moore & Evans, but on motion of Attorney H. C. Head of Santa Ana, representing Townsend, it was transferred here. It is alleged that Townsend gave the plaintiffs authority to sell a ranch near Long Beach for $47,500, and that a customer was furnished.

To Sell for $10,000 The United Presbyterian Church, through Attorney Steele Finley, has petitioned for a permit to sell the church's property at the northeast corner of Fourth and Mortimer streets, for $10,000. This was the site left by the church when the new building was finished.

Turns Over All Bridge Money

Twenty-five per cent, amounting to about $2400, is one to be fought over. The reason a reserve was provided for in the contract was to meet just such conditions as have arisen. The county is not likely to turn loose of that money until the tangle that has arisen is settled.

Under the contract and bond, and with the reserve, the county ought to come out clear, and without a lawsuit, even if the bonding company should resist whatever effort may be necessary, if any is necessary, to complete payment on the bond.

Contractors Will Lose The contract price was about $21,000, with additions in case of extras. Yesterday Trowne said that the $5500 drawn from the county had all been put back into the Olive bridge job, and several thousand dollars in addition. Just how much in addition, Trowne did not say. He said that he could not tell without checking over the books. Whatever that addition is, Trowne & Stoecker stand to lose most or all of it, excepting possibly that portion that was paid out for equipment.

Yesterday Trowne and his foreman were busy taking the equipment off the job. Under the estimate of County Surveyor McBride about $700 worth of work has actually been put into the bridge contract. That does not include anything that went into equipment. McBride has acted conservatively throughout the entire mix-up, and backed up by the district attorney and the supervisors, refused to increase his estimates of work done. A week ago Trowne tried to get McBride to include in his estimate of work done a large yardage of concrete that has just been poured. McBride refused. He said that he would not report upon concrete freshly poured, not until it was old enough to show that it was good concrete.

Must Do It Legally

When the labor claimants were before the supervisors, their situation was set forth in a talk by Malory. The supervisors were requested to make some immediate arrangements so that the men could get some of their money.

"I would like to see these men paid at once," said District Attorney West, "but we must follow the law."

The district attorney rules that the county cannot turn the $1807 warrant over to the bank, as assigned to it by Trowne, until all of the claimants sign a release of it to the county. The attorneys interested, Davis, Rutan, Bishop and Garrett, were notified by County Clerk Williams this morning that the money would be turned over as soon as the releases are filed.

Last to Be Filed

Yesterday the Register published a list of claims that had been filed up to the time of going to press, stating that other claims would be filed. At that time the claims totaled $3624.75. Later in the afternoon Attorney S. M. Davis filed labor claims totaling about $2,000, as follows: L. McCracken, $43.70; W. Moon, $91.83; G. L. Maxwell, $144.60; Vic Johnson, $140.85; Fay Johnson, $74.45; F. Hemann, $15.10; Ralph Danker, $54.35; O. W. Werner, $86.05; E. C. Patterson, $136.90; Frank Charleston, $103.45; George Nelson, $34.95; Andrew Ruch, $65.10; R. W. Montgomery, $34.95; Oscar Beem, $106.35; Ed Vestrem, $37.70; S. A. Irwin, $98.50; B. Burns, $115; C. Davis, $108.85; H. D. Heitschusen, $30.75; Dale Murdoch, $114.80; A. A. Malstrom, $96.25; C. P. Mallory, $72.75; John Huber, $16.20; J. A. Morefield, $89.50; Chas. Smith, $15; F. A. Larsen, $3; H. I. Gregg, $61.25; William Butler, $15.75; E. S. Ross, $37.10; J. M. Klockner, $16.65.

These claims were accompanied by three slips signed by the foreman, M. H. Slocum, and the timekeeper, Grant Goodale.

Fullerton Safe

The City of Fullerton had a claim of $450 on file. This was for a pump sold to Trowne & Stoecker. Today the pump was returned to Fullerton, and City Attorney Marks of that city withdrew the city's claim.

Some Forms of Rheumatism Curable Rheumatism is a disease characterized by pains in the joints and in the muscles. The most common forms are: Acute and Chronic Rheumatism, Rheumatic Headaches, Sciatic Rheumatism and Lumbago. All of these types can be helped absolutely by applying some good liniment that penetrates. An application of Sloan's Liniment two or three times a day to the affected part will give instant relief. Sloan's Liniment is good for pain, and especially Rheumatic Pain, because it penetrates to the seat of the trouble, soothes the afflicted part and draws the pain. "Sloan's Liniment is all medicine." NO AWARD S MADE IN GARDEN GROVE ACTION

Yesterday Justice Cox heard both sides of a suit that concerned a complaint for $15 and a counter claim for $15. Stephen Connolly sued for $15 for wages. He said he picked peppers. The evidence showed he picked peppers for a Jap and not for Jarman Smith, the man sued. The evidence also showed that Connolly was given a place to sleep and his meals at the Smith home out of charity. Judgment was that neither side take any award.

Held to Answer

Arthur Keach, charged with getting property under false pretenses, was today ordered held to answer for trial in the superior court. His bail was fixed at $1000, which Keach is trying to raise.

Traffic Troubles

This morning Justice Cox collected fines as follows: A. D. Moody, A. G. Graves, Harrison Malicote, G. F. Watcher, G. A. Shampang, Frank Cook, S. Rogers and Tom Giston, $10 each for speeding; Hugh Taylor, $1, for having no light on a bicycle; Arthur Douglass, P. S. Stroud, J. Gallagher and Dr. Bryan, $3 each for not having proper lights on vehicles.

Fred Corona of Fullerton pleaded not guilty to driving an automobile while he was intoxicated, and his trial was set for March 18.

OUSTED BY ALIEN LAW, TRIES TO BURN HOME

NEW YORK, March 10.—Because James Reilly of No. 1940 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, was notified that the alien labor law would prohibit him from working longer in the subway, he confessed an attempt to burn his home, on which he had carried $600 insurance. He assisted firemen in beating out the flames.

"The government has taken my job," he told Fire Marshal Walsh, who arrested him, "and I believed it should support my wife and three babies."

A COMMON CURIOSITY

"Willie, why weren't you in school yesterday afternoon?" "Do you want to know, too?" "Of course."

"Oh, gee, teacher! Pa and ma kept me busy all evening explaining that."

WILL NOT BUILD NEW PACKING HOUSE NOW

Walnut Growers Decide to Get Renewal of Lease on Present Plant

All possibility of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association building a new packing house was eliminated yesterday when the board of directors and sixty stockholders present at a meeting in the city hall decided to secure a new lease on the house at present occupied by the association.

Two weeks ago the association members were almost unanimous in their belief that a new house should be built. Since that time, however, the association has become convinced that it would not be advisable to build at this time. The sixty stockholders present yesterday was a fair representation of the entire association membership and for this reason it was decided to forego building a new plant.

It is likely that the directors will sign up the lease on the old house for a period of five years.

The old board of directors will serve for another year, no quorum to elect a new board having been present at three meetings.

Queen Sibyl Here Thursday Will Be Greeted Royally

One of the fifteen most beautiful and most popular of Southern California's daughters will be in Santa Ana Thursday.

She will arrive here at two o'clock in the afternoon on a special car over the Pacific Electric.

Her visit will be made the occasion of a big demonstration of loyalty by hundreds of subjects here. The young woman has thousands of admirers throughout Southern California, and during the past two weeks she has been greeted by them in many cities of the Southland.

The young woman soon may wear a crown, and her visit here will be in connection with a regal ambition which, if realized, will place upon her head a jeweled circlet of gold valued at $25,000.

A remarkable feature of this possibility is the fact that Thursday's visitor is a working girl. A few chorus girls have sung their way to coronets, but in this case the romantic prospect is afforded of a wage-earner in royal vestments.

It called to the exalted station to which she aspires Miss Sibyl Mather—for that's her name—will be the first Southern California woman to rule society while wearing a monarch's diadem.

During her tour of Southern California Miss Mather has been much gratified at the evidence of the people's co-operation in her mission here, which is to place Southern California at a higher level of prosperity than ever before.

As a corollary of this, she brings a plea for united effort and support in restoring normal business conditions.

Every Santa Ana interested in seeing Southern California, and Orange county, in particular, at its height of prosperity and easy money is invited to meet Miss Mather Thursday. While here she will hold an informal reception.

Local employees of the Pacific Electric are eager to shake hands with Miss Mather because of the fact that she is their own choice for fiesta queen of the Southland for exposition year.

To elect her, they have organized wherever the railway company's lines extend. Their work to win for a fellow employee the fiesta crown has been so thorough that, aided by the hotel men, they already have placed their candidate in second place, despite the fact that they were late in entering the contest, in which fifteen young women, representatives of as many organizations, are seeking the beauty crown.

Miss Mather, known in court circles as Queen Sibyl, is one of the most valued employees of the Pacific Electric. She has been in the service of the company for nine years, and is known to hundreds of thousands of travelers, of travelers, who do not know her name, as the Girl with the Smile.

Miss Mather is chief of the information bureau in the Main street station of the Pacific Electric in Los Angeles, where she is always on the job of giving the right answers to a thousand different questions a day.

YORBA LINDAS ASKING $2,000 FOR GRADING

Three Supervisors Present
Agree That Work Ought to Be Done by the County

Yesterday afternoon C. H. Seasans, W. E. Swain and T. B. Welch as a committee from Yorba Linda asked the Board of Supervisors to appropriate $2,000 toward putting the main road into Yorba Linda from the west to the grade, demanded by the County Highway Commission. While Supervisors H. E. Smith, F. W. Struck and Wm. Schumacher, who were present, all seemed to agree that the appropriation should be made, no final action was taken until Supervisors T. B. Talbert and Jasper Leek are also present. It takes a four-fifths vote to make the appropriation.

The Highway Commission recommended for paving 2.5 miles leading from the Olinda paved road into Yorba Linda, but stipulated that the road before improved with bond money should be put to a grade of not greater than five per cent by the property owners.

The Yorba Lindas yesterday said that the community has a number of projects on hand, including the improvement of other streets, and that the community is not able to stand the expense of putting the road to grade. Considering the work the district has done on roads and other public projects, the committee thought it was due the community that the county undertake the grading.

Plans Are Rejected

The plans for a concrete bridge across the Santiago creek on East Chapman street were rejected by the board. This bridge is to be built two-thirds by the city of Orange and one-third by the county. Orange had already instructed the architect, J. Flood Walker, to stop work upon the plans he had started and to start new plans for an arch bridge. The county merely joined in those instructions.

County Superintendent of Schools Mitchell reported that Richfield school district by a vote of ten to one had joined the Fullerton Union High School District.

WHAT OHIO DOES TO FILMS OF PASSION

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—That demoralizing effect which scientists say emanates from movies into the brains of certain humans who constantly watch love, passion, pathos and comedy thrown on the screen is at the minimum in Ohio.

Of eighty-three reels, latest to be inspected by the Ohio board of censors, seven reels were entirely suppressed and twenty suffered cuts that will make the small boy who watches them less bloodthirsty and the lovesick young girl less reckless. This is what the movies characters did in these censored films but could not do in Ohio.

Kiss for twenty feet (kisses are always cut to three feet in Ohio), drink poison, drink liquor, stage a thirty-foot fight (fights are flashes only, if at all), kidnap someone, murder someone, take off their pajamas and otherwise disrobe, gamble, put poison tablets in a glass of water, forcibly hug a girl, abduct someone and tie them to a load of dynamite, drink from a bottle, sit on a man's lap, and several other little scenes that the censors thought would have effect on the morals of the patron.

Moving picture manufacturers are conducting a campaign against the Ohio censors on the ground that the constant "cutting and pasting" of films is an expense the manufacturers failed to figure on. It is charged the Ohio censors are too strict, anyway, and ought to be eliminated.

If it's Insurance, see Turner.

(From Los Angeles Financial News.)

Money Conditions Easier

"The early part of January is usually a time of heavy bank withdrawals, due to the adoption of plans for the stimulation of business and new enterprises by manufacturers, merchants and developers. This money leaves the banks, temporarily, and the deposits, as a rule, fall off because of holiday bills. This year, however, there has been an exception to the rule. While the withdrawals for the enlargement of business has been normal the deposits have been exceptionally heavy and to a point that occasioned surprise. Deposits for early January have exceeded withdrawals." This is the view of J. F. Sartori, president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles.

"We watched this balance of deposits over take-outs start on January 2 and increase each day, and began to seek for the reason," continued Mr. Sartori. "The cause is not absolutely ascertainable, but we do find that a considerable amount of money that had been put in safety deposit vaults or kept under the mattress has come out of hiding and into circulation. This is the acme of confidence on the part of the public. It means that 'prosperity' is not merely a topic for conversation, but is a reality."

"Studying these things carefully, the Security Trust and Savings Bank has broken the ice on loans by offering to turn back into general circulation the excess of deposits and it may be felt assured that money from now on will be 'easier.' In two days we have loaned a considerable gross amount at 40 per cent of conservative valuation without imposition of a commission. This situation will continue and will become general."

"Money put out in this way gets eventually to the contractor and means increased building activity. It passes into the hands of the wage earner and means more employment for the carpenter and the bricklayer. In other words money of this sort changes from hand to hand; the grocer and the butcher, the clothing merchant and the Broadway stores—every one in the community shares in the benefits of its circulation."

"This, as we deduce the situation, is not the time to talk optimism, but, rather, the time to share in its benefits. It may be predicted that each week will mark an augmentation in the flow of coin and currency. Banking circles may be said to be highly pleased and the best evidence is the re-establishment of a loan basis on Los Angeles homes."

United States as Banking Power

Edmund D. Hulbert, vice-president of the Merchants Loan and Trust Company, of Chicago, defended the Federal Reserve Act before members of the Union League Club of that city and asserted that London's position as the world banking power would be jeopardized by the United States at the conclusion of the war because of the act. Mr. Hulbert thought it of little consequence whether the Reserve banks earned dividends, though he thought they would, and predicted the greater loaning powers given to banks would more than compensate for any loss of dividends.

Oil From Grape Seed

A concession has been granted a soap and chemical manufacturer of Rosario, Argentina, for the exploitation of the grape seed oil industry in the province of Mendoza, the concession being an exclusive one. The district in 1913 produced 105,603,000 gallons of wine. The plant for the manufacture of grape seed oil will open this year with a capacity of 650,000 pounds of oil per annum which will be increased until the product reaches six to eight million pounds. For table use the oil can be marketed at a cost of 5.8 cents a pound and for the manufacture of soap at 3.9 cents per pound. The oil, it is declared, can be used in the manufacture of artificial rubber.

Mint Output Last Year

Mints of the United States in the year 1914 coined 154,850,157 pieces, the total value of which was $61,750,161.72. Gold coins numbered 4,194,112 valued at $53,457,817; silver coins were valued at $6,083,082 with 31,368,655 dimes leading in number; of one cent pieces 80,568,432 were coined. Coinage for the Philippine Islands amounted to 6,975,500 pieces; for Salvador, 7,000,080 pieces; Costa Rica, 859,425 pieces, and Ecuador, 2,500,900 pieces.

Greatest Grain Point

Approximately 221,691 cars of grain were received in Chicago and inspected by the state utilities commission in 1914, as against 204,924 cars in 1913, and this despite the fact that the first six months of this year showed a decrease of 40 per cent, as compared with the first half of the preceding year. The decrease was attributed to poor crops. The figures show Chicago to be the greatest grain receiving and grain shipping point in the world.

Beet Sugar Production

Four factories of the Amalgamated Sugar Company in Utah and Idaho in 1914 produced 80,000,000 pounds of beet sugar. The Utah-Idaho Sugar Company's output was 153,000,000 pounds. A gain of 27,000,000 pounds over 1913.

To Suppress Bank Robbery

The lower House of the Oklahoma Legislature has voted to appropriate $15,000 to be used for the suppression of bank robbery in the State as the result of the robbing of four banks in the region about Oklahoma City this week. The City Electric Company of San Francisco has filed an application with the Railroad Commission, requesting authority to issue $250,000 of first mortgage 5 per cent thirty year sinking fund gold bonds, at not less than $4.

The Consolidated Securities Company, which is engaged in the real estate business in Los Angeles county, and which operates a water system in the town of San Fernando, has filed an application with the Railroad Commission, requesting authority to issue $150,000 face value of 20 year 6 per cent bonds.

Demand Return License Tax

One hundred and ninety-two corporations, including the United States Steel Products and the Pullman company, in California, have made formal demand, through their attorney, on two state officials, Secretary of State Jordan and State Treasurer Richardson for a refund of $71,690 corporation license taxes paid. The demand is made on the ground that the corporation license tax was held unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court.

Suits to recover several hundred thousands of dollars paid in franchise taxes under protest by several large corporations also have been filed against State Treasurer Richardson. The cases are based on a charge that the State Board of Equalization assessed franchises arbitrarily.

Olive Crop in Southern France

"The outlook for next spring's olive crop in the Nice district France, and which was good in November, is now much less favorable. The heavy rains and storms in December have caused a premature fall of the fruit, especially in the orchards situated on the coast, and due to the damp weather the Musca olearia has developed to a great extent. However, the fallen olives are pressed, and a low grade of olive oil is extracted, which, if treated by a system of washing and refining can be made edible," writes Consul General Hunt at Nice.

Publicity for Reserve Banks

In order that the public and member banks of the Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis may know the functions and limitations of the institution a campaign of publicity has been inaugurated. Curtis L. Mosher at one time secretary to Howard Elliott when the latter was president of the Northern Pacific, having been placed in charge of the publicity work.

Saving First Navel Orange Tree

The Department of Agriculture has put several forest service experts to work to save the original navel orange tree brought to the United States forty years ago from which the California navel orange industry was started. The old tree has been at the botanical gardens where portions of its trunk decayed. It has been removed to the greenhouses of the department, where the experts are patching it up and where hereafter it will be kept under a glass house.

Exports of War Material

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The strengthening of the potato market is one of the features of trading this week. New potatoes are gradually becoming a little more plentiful.

On the vegetable market yesterday morning there were no reported receipts of white asparagus from the northern producing territory. The only stock received came from Imperial Valley and was of the small green kind, which sold as high as 30 cents and as low as 25 cents. Artichokes from the north, some celery and a few tomatoes from Florida were reported among the receipts. Considerable interest is manifested in the report that a steamer has just loaded a large cargo of tomatoes at Ensenada, Mexico, and is bringing them to Los Angeles. Should this be true, much speculation is rife as to the condition of the stock when it arrives.

Receipts of eggs were 822 cases and the market saw-sawed back to 13½ cents, the quotations of the day previous. The northern price was 21 cents on case count, an advance of ½ cent.

A Draft—You Catch Cold—Then Follows Coughs, Cold Stiff Neck Neuralgia

Especially in the piercing pain of neuralgia or the dull throb of headache is Sloan's Liniment wonderfully relieving. Laid lightly on the part where the pain is felt, it gives at once a feeling of comfort and ease that is most welcome to the overwrought sufferer.

Hear What Others Say:

"There are no Liniments that equal Sloan's. My husband has neuralgia very often, he rubs Sloan's on his face and that is the last of it."—Mrs. V. J. Brown, Route 1, Box 121, Halls, Tenn.
"I have used Sloan's Liniment for family use for years and would not be without it. We have raised a family of ten children and have used it for croup and all lung trouble; also, as an antiseptic for wounds, of which children have a great many, it can't be beat. My wife sprained her ankle last summer and it was in bad shape. Sloan's Liniment applied enabled her to be as good as ever in a week. I have used it several times for sprains and rheumatism."—John Newcomb, R. R. No. 2, Keokuk, Iowa.

Status of State Succor for Unfortunate Children

Excerpt from opening statement made by John Francis Neylan, Chairman of the State Board of Control, in discussion of "State Aid to Children," at State Convention of Charities and Corrections, at Fresno.

"It is well within the bounds of conservatism to assert that a majority of the people of California today do not know that the State of California annually expends a sum in excess of $450,000 to aid unfortunate children who are left without either one or both parents. Included in this majority, the Board of Control has learned by actual experience, are many well disposed people who are active in securing legislation on this and kindred subjects.

"The impression seems to be general that the counties are very generous in dealing with dependent children. The fact is that more than 90 per cent of the public money contributed to the support of these children comes out of the state treasury and less than 10 per cent out of the county treasuries. It would therefore seem but just that in meeting this problem in the future serious attention should be given to devising means of inducing the counties to take up their rightful share of the burden. San Francisco and Alameda counties are the only subdivisions of the state which today attempt to meet their obligation in this respect.

"During the last two years there has been a proper supervision of the state's expenditures for these unfortunate children through the activities of the children's agents of the State Board of Control. These three children's agents have accomplished excellent results against big odds, not only in saving to the state more than sufficient to pay the entire amount of their salaries and expenses, but in improving the condition of the children receiving state aid. These results have been obtained in a very large degree through the whole-hearted co-operation of county authorities and of the enlightened men and women who give of their time, energy and means to modernize and improve the orphanages of the state.

"Many unthinking people have acquired the habit of condemning all the orphanages of the state. Without the slightest foundation in fact they make the most absurd statements regarding these institutions. Indiscriminately they hurl charges of the most violent character. They are not only committing an outrageous wrong against the hundreds of excellent men and women who are devoting themselves to this work, but they are hurting the little unfortunate children who need help most of all; namely, those who because of deformity or unattractiveness stand no chance of being adopted into families.

"No sane man or woman in this day and age will advocate putting a child in any institution if that child can be provided with a proper home. No sane man or woman will advocate keeping a child in an institution if it can be adopted out into a proper home. But every man and woman who is just and admires unselfish labor in the interest of others will accord full praise to the men and women who have made many of our orphanages models. No group of people in California today is doing a better work than the directors of the Sacramento Orphanage and Farm, which today stands at the head of the list of the forty-three orphanages in California receiving state aid. It would also be well for those interested in children's work to become acquainted with the accomplishments of the Los Angeles Orphan Home, the Pasadena Training Society, and with the work of the Dominican Sisters. Many other orphanages are accomplishing excellent results.

"In connection with the orphanages it is also interesting to note that the number of children for whom they are receiving state aid diminished from 2875 in 1904, to 3577 in 1912, and to 2451 in 1914. No more proof should be needed to convince the most exacting person that those children available for adoption into homes are being placed with the full co-operation of the enlightened institutions.

"It is also interesting to note the number of children outside of institutions who are being aided by the state. In 1904 the number was 2407; in 1912 it was 3410; in 1914 it was 4977.

"If you will compare the totals you will note that in 1914 the aggregate is 7428 as against 7282 in 1914, in spite of the enormous growth of the state and in spite of the widespread agitation of this question in the last few years. You will also note, however, the fact that the children outside of institutions receiving aid more than doubled, while those in institutions decreased just about one-half.

"The causes of the dependency of these children also forms an interesting study. In 63 per cent of the cases the fathers died of preventable causes as follows:

"Tuberculosis, 27 per cent; Industrial accidents, 18 per cent; Pneumonia, 13 per cent; Typhoid fever, 5 per cent.

"Please note the fact that 18 per cent of these children became charges on the state when their fathers were killed while trying to earn a living. This was prior to the passage of the Workmen's Compensation Act. We now get no more cases from that source.

"We are making rapid advances along the lines of improving the conditions of these children. It is a work which deserves the best efforts of all of us, but in which we should proceed thoughtfully.

"The Board of Control this year is advocating raising the age limit of children receiving aid from 14 to 15 years to conform with the school laws and child labor laws; it also advocates requiring at least two years' residence in the state before aid can be granted; it also advocates requiring a man to care for the children his wife may have had by a former marriage; and, probably most of all, it hopes to eliminate for all time the practice prevalent in many counties of giving aid in grocery orders, except in such cases where such a course is deemed wise on proper showing. Under the vicious grocery order practice in some counties the local grocer has been for many years a petty tyrant before whom a helpless mother had to bend or accept the risk of losing the aid needed for her children."

"The causes of the dependency of these children also forms an interesting study. In 63 per cent of the cases the fathers died of preventable causes as follows:

"Tuberculosis, 27 per cent; Industrial accidents, 18 per cent; Pneumonia, 13 per cent; Typhoid fever, 5 per cent.

"Please note the fact that 18 per cent of these children became charges on the state when their fathers were killed while trying to earn a living. This was prior to the passage of the Workmen's Compensation Act. We now get no more cases from that source.

"We are making rapid advances along the lines of improving the conditions of these children. It is a work which deserves the best efforts of all of us, but in which we should proceed thoughtfully.

"The Board of Control this year is advocating raising the age limit of children receiving aid from 14 to 15 years to conform with the school laws and child labor laws; it also advocates requiring at least two years' residence in the state before aid can be granted; it also advocates requiring a man to care for the children his wife may have had by a former marriage; and, probably most of all, it hopes to eliminate for all time the practice prevalent in many counties of giving aid in grocery orders, except in such cases where such a course is deemed wise on proper showing. Under the vicious grocery order practice in some counties the local grocer has been for many years a petty tyrant before whom a helpless mother had to bend or accept the risk of losing the aid needed for her children."

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—Advertisement.
